

Integrated Justice in Washington State

September 13-17, 2004

Activity in the JIN Program Office

Activity this week centered on plans for the pilot deployment of Summary Offender Profile and preparations for meetings next week with state legislators.

2005 JIN Blueprint

We are scheduled to receive final copies of the 2005 JIN Blueprint (<http://www.jin.wa.gov/publications/strategicplan2005.htm>) from the printer at 8 AM Monday morning, and are working on some shorter briefing sheets to accompany the Plan. These will be ready for meetings on Monday and Tuesday, and I will circulate them within the community as soon as they are available.. In addition to the meetings mentioned in last week's JINfo, (Representative Lovick, Senators Delvin, Hargrove and McCaslin), I am also scheduled to meet with Senators Carell, Esser and Thibaudeau.

Summary Offender Profile (SOP)

Dan Parsons of the WSP confirmed that SOP is getting accurate results from its queries of the WSP system. The next steps in validating the application are to capture screens of the SOP sample data; have AOC validate the courts' data; and to validate the data mapping from the raw data through the whole system.

We did experience a system failure this week due to a change in the configuration of the DIS mail server of which we were unaware. However, once the problem was identified, it was quickly resolved.

I am scheduled to present the application to staff from LESA next week and to refine plans for the next pilot deployment.

Byrne Grant RFP

We sent the RFP responses to the technical and financial review teams this week, along with evaluation score sheets. We have asked the teams to return their evaluations by next week.

Miscellaneous

► I met with Bob Brett, Senator Esser's chief of staff, to discuss the JIN strategic plan and decision package.

► I met with Randy Mckown and Dirk Marler, AOC to discuss the potential utility of current JIN technology principles and other efforts for the AOC's electronic citations project.
